

ANNUAL REPORT 2018 / 2019

JUBILEE
WOMEN'S CENTER

SUCCESS OUTCOMES

62

women received housing and in-depth services

7x
increase in monthly income for residents after completing Jubilee's program

 58%
of exiting residents moved into independent housing

 50%
of eligible residents gained employment

SERVICE RESULTS

 875
community referrals

 730
women used the free boutique

 67
women attended 187 classes

 12
completed an outside job training or school program

 21
enrolled in the Matched Savings Program

 21
months - the average stay of Jubilee residents

FINANCIAL REPORT (7/1/18-6/30/19)

SUPPORT & REVENUE

Total: $1,573,788

EXPENSES

Total: $1,706,914

WHO WE SERVED

OUR VOLUNTEERS

THE NEED

The average monthly income of a woman entering the Jubilee program is $356. Comparatively, the median cost of housing in Seattle is $1,332/mo for a one bedroom (Wallace, 2019). Without living-wage employment to meet these expenses ($22/hour in Seattle), more and more women are entering emergency shelters, living in their cars, or finding shelter in other unsafe situations.

JUBILEE'S RESPONSE

We believe a self-determined woman can rise above her circumstances. For 35 years, Jubilee Women's Center has filled a critical role in the continuum of care for women in King County, serving women who are in poverty through complex circumstances like domestic violence, lack of affordable housing, and low wages that don't meet basic monthly expenses.

Finding safe and consistent housing is critical for a woman while she's gathering the tools to move toward sustainable, independent housing. Our programs are based on client driven self-assessments to identify individual needs, and are designed to give women the time they need to make long-term behavioral changes. Women leave Jubilee empowered and self-sufficient, leaving homelessness behind permanently.